Melissa Banister

Title of Talk: On Factorization Properties of Congruence Monoids

Abstract:
This summer, the REU at Trinity University has examined various properties of congruence monoids; in particular, we have studied the factorization properties of congruence monoids, and have sought to find necessary and sufficient conditions for when a singular monoid is half-factorial.