

Joseph Breen

Title of Talk: Discrete-Time Modeling of Time-Dependent Queueing Systems

Abstract:

The presentation will describe the basic ideas of Markov chains, and of homogeneous and inhomogeneous queueing systems. The use of a discrete-time model to obtain approximate results for inhomogeneous queues with continuous service time distributions will then be explained, and its computer implementation will be described.